ACTIVITY REPORT

HELP FOR TAAL

"Always in the immediate aftermath of a disaster we have what is called a therapeutic community, where people want to help.."

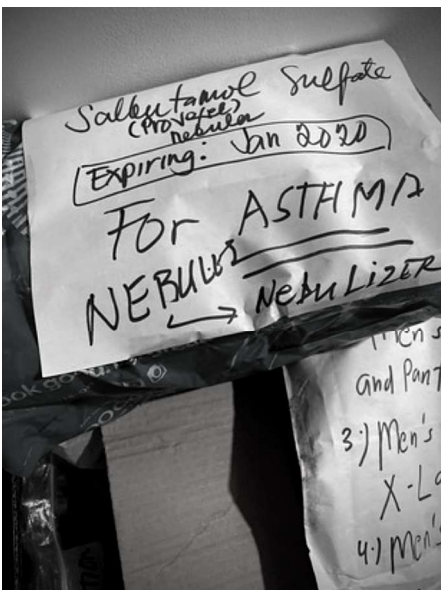

James Johnson

ALWAYS READY TO HELP

As soon as the news of the taal eruption broke out, Dra. Navarra organized a team to help out with the preparations to provide the displaced residents of taal whatever they need. Donations in cash and in kind came flowing in. All the rheumatology consultants and fellows pitched in and gave whatever they could to help. The day before the mission, the donations in kind were carefully sorted out and organized to facilitate ease of distribution.

Clothes, meds,
masks, food.

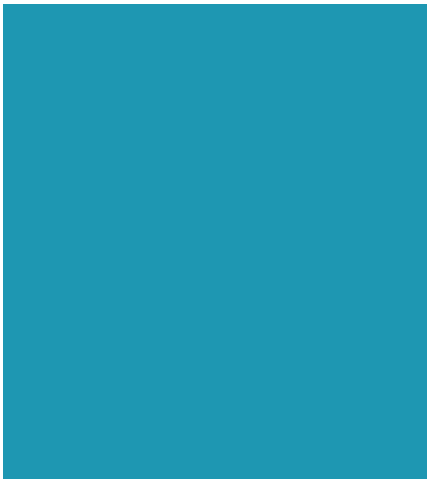

VENUE

The medical mission and the distribution of relief goods were simultaneously done at Tala National High School (above) and Pingkian Elementary School (below). Both schools serve as evacuation centers to more than 100 families displaced by the recent calamity.

MEDICAL MISSION HIGHLIGHTS

Handing out umbrellas which doubles as canes to the senior citizens and PWDS at Pingkian Elementary School and Tala National High School. The smiles on the faces of our lolos and lolas were enough to turn our weary bodies into happy souls.

All the patients had smiles on their faces and were very grateful that their fellowmen were eager to help and provide not just physical but also emotional comfort.
